

"Appalachian Mission Project Selection Form"

In order to optimize the full value of each project site and give each participant a safe, active and rewarding experience there is an optimum number of participants recommended on each project site. Large groups are divided into recommended optimum size work crews on separate project sites. Many large groups rotate their crews to different types of projects on alternating days so the youth have the opportunity to experience multiple types of service projects.

You may choose for a large group not to be divided but understand some youth in your group may be idle at times. The maximum recommended number of participants on Environmental projects is 25, on Interactive projects is 20, on Humanitarian, Habitat and Helping Hands Projects is 16.

There are no additional costs associated with the Environmental and Interactive Projects.

There is an additional per day per site building project fund contribution required for Humanitarian ($240), Habitat ($390) and Helping Hands ($425) Projects.

Please check your choice (or choices if applicable) of mission project type for each day and submit this form no later than your 2nd payment due date. This information is crucial to arranging your mission projects.
